Trademark Description

The drawing (logo) is circular in form. It is surrounded by a thin black band. Toward the centre, a wide band is formed by a number of white geometric forms on a black background. There are ninety-six (96) oval forms, thirty-six (36) triangular forms, positioned among twelve (12) circular forms laid out as the numbers on a clock. Continuing toward the centre, there is a thin black circular band. At the centre of the ring described above is a circle, separated by the symbolic representation of two (2) astrological Leo signs, connected and drawn in black as mirror images of each other. This separation (referring to the circle) forms two (2) sections in the background, a black one on the left-hand side and a white one on the right-hand side. At the centre of the symbolic representation of the two (2) astrological Leo signs, described above is the name of the trademark, written in write (LION'S CREW). Around the symbolic representation of the two (2) astrological Leo signs, forming a circle, is the drawing of two (2) lion heads, decorated with the same ring described above, which covers the two (2) astrological Leo signs. The medallion to the left, formed by the drawing of a lion's head and its ornaments, is black on a white background, while the lion's eyes are decorated with an emerald stone (and therefore green); to its upper right (at a 45-degree angle) is a conic-style geometrical form, black on a white background, which, in combination with the medallion, represents a microphone. Inside the twelve (12) circles appearing inside the ring that decorates this medallion is the letter P. The medallion to the right, formed by the drawing of a lion's head and its ornaments, is white on a black background, while the lion's eyes are decorated with a ruby stone (and therefore red); to its lower left (at a 45-degree angle) is a conic-style geometrical form, white on a black background, which, in combination with the medallion, represents a microphone. Inside the twelve (12) circles appearing inside the ring that decorates this medallion is the letter A.
